

LEAGUE WORKERS PROBE 107 CASES

Report of Anti-Tuberculosis League Shows Much Activity During June.

A total of 107 patients were listed by the St. Joseph county chapter of the Anti-tuberculosis League during the month of June, according to the report submitted Thursday by Miss Jane Hufford, executive secretary.

Of the new examinations made, 49 were those of South Bend people, nine from Mishawaka, one from Osceola and three from the city which did not pass through the clinic. Thirteen active cases from South Bend and five from Mishawaka were found, and 25 suspicious cases discovered. Thirty three were found to be non tuberculous. The proportion as to sex showed 49 male and 40 female patients of which 12 were admitted to Healthwin hospital.

One of the big outstanding events of the month was the gift to the League of a Studebaker Light Six by A. R. Erskine, head of the Studebaker corporation. The machine has been of great service to the chapter in making visits to patients and in connection with the work at the hospital and prevention.

An example of prevention work being done by the league was shown in the report that a list of deaths resulting from tuberculosis was obtained so that nurses might visit homes where such deaths occur and contact might be discovered.

CLAIMS CREDIT FOR 'THREE MUSKETEERS'

PARIS, July 13.—(By U. P.)—French literary circles are stirred over the court proceedings in which the heirs of a comparatively unknown author, Auguste Maquet, are claiming recognition of the "Three Musketeers," generally credited to Alexandre Dumas.

Maquet's family demand that the name of Auguste Maquet, henceforth figure on the cover with that of Alexandre Dumas and that the family shall benefit of a part of the revenue from the sales of the book.

The fact that Dumas was not alone responsible for the world famous book was brought to public notice some time ago in a book published by Gustave Simon, entitled the "Story of a Collaboration" in which he described the individual work of both men in the writing of the "Three Musketeers" and from which it would appear that Maquet only wrote the greater part of it, but the finest.

If the court recognized the claim put forward by Maquet's relatives, it will have to assess the amount of the revenue to which the family is entitled for the past 24 years.
